

WORLD'S WEALTHIEST CITIES IN 2024

IT'S YOUR MOVE

Henley & Partners

When it comes to the number of resident millionaires with liquid investable wealth of USD 1 million or more, the US leads the pack, with 11 cities in the Top 50, including New York City, which holds firmly onto 1st place in the 2024 World's Wealthiest Cities Report, published annually by international wealth migration specialists Henley & Partners in collaboration with global data intelligence firm New World Wealth.

The total wealth held by the Big Apple's residents now exceeds USD 3 trillion — higher than the total wealth held in most major G20 countries — and a staggering 349,500 millionaires, 744 centi-millionaires (with investable wealth of over USD 100 million), and 60 billionaires live in the city.

Hot on its heels in 2nd place is Northern California's Bay Area, encompassing the city of San Francisco and Silicon Valley. The Bay Area has enjoyed one of the world's highest wealth growth rates, increasing its millionaire population by a whopping 82% over the past decade, and is now home to 305,700 millionaires, 675 centi-millionaires, and 68 billionaires.

Tokyo, on the other hand, which led the pack as the world's wealthiest city a decade ago, has suffered a 5% decline in its resident high-net-worth-individual (HNWI) population over the past ten years, and now sits in 3rd place with just 298,300 millionaires. City-state Singapore has climbed two places to 4th on the global ranking following an impressive 64% increase in millionaires over the past 10 years and looks set to unseat Tokyo as Asia's wealthiest city very soon. Widely regarded as the most business-friendly city on earth, Singapore is also one of the world's top destinations for migrating millionaires — approximately 3,400 HNWI's moved there in 2023 alone and the city now boasts 244,800 resident millionaires, 336 centi-millionaires, and 30 billionaires.

Dr. Juerg Steffen, CEO of Henley & Partners, says a key factor driving growth in the world's wealthiest cities has been the strong performance of financial markets in recent years. "The S&P 500's 24% gain last year, along with the Nasdaq's 43% surge and Bitcoin's staggering 155% rally, has buoyed the fortunes of wealthy investors. Additionally, rapid advancements in artificial intelligence, robotics, and blockchain technology have provided new opportunities for wealth creation and accumulation. Yet, even as new opportunities emerge, old risks persist. The war in Ukraine, which has seen Moscow's millionaire population plummet by 24% to 30,300, is a stark reminder of the fragility of wealth in an uncertain and unstable world."

Dominic Volek, Group Head of Private Clients at Henley & Partners, says 7 of the Top 10 wealthiest cities in the world are in countries that host investment migration programs that actively encourage foreign direct investment in return for residence or citizenship rights. "You can secure the right to live, work, study, and invest in leading international wealth hubs such as New York, Singapore, Sydney, Vienna, and Dubai via investment."

WEALTHIEST CITIES REPORT

Being able to relocate yourself, your family, or your business to a more favorable city or have the option to choose between multiple different cities across the world is an increasingly important aspect of international wealth and legacy planning for private clients. The more jurisdictions a family can access, the more diversified its assets, the lower its exposure to country-specific and regional risks, and the greater the opportunities they can enjoy. Likewise, cities and countries can use investment migration as an innovative financing mechanism to attract the world's wealthiest and most talented to their shores."

This is more than a home; it's a statement address.

ISLAND LIFE

BALEARICS - TAGOMAGO

THIS ISLAND IS ONE OF A KIND, TAKE PRIDE KNOWING THAT THIS ISLAND IS THE LAST FREEHOLD ISLAND IN THE BALEARICS

Tagomago is a 600,000 sqm (148-acre) private island only 900 metres away from Ibiza, Spain. Thanks to its unique location, Tagomago is one of the most attractive properties available in Europe. Situated at an estimated 2 hour flight from most cities in Europe, Tagomago can be accessed very quickly by boat or helicopter, with only a 10 minute flight from Ibiza's main airport. The island is also tremendously private, as there is only one villa and lighthouse on the entire island, and the remaining is surrounded by beautiful Mediterranean wildlife. One of the aspects that makes Tagomago unique, is that it is a freehold island as opposed to a concession.

The only villa present is located in the centre of the island, and consists of 5 double bedrooms with en-suite bathrooms, a closed professional kitchen, an open plan living room connected to the pool area (15 meter salt water pool) with a round jacuzzi adjacent to it. Additionally, there are two wide terraces surrounding the villa, one on each side, featuring a sunrise and sunset view. Moreover, the villa interior boasts a tower, which leads to the rooftop and is also where the office area is situated. The tower is connected to the large rooftop area (50 metres in length) where you will find several sun lounge areas and an outdoor gym setting with additional sun-beds.

THE LAP OF LUXURY

An aerial photograph of a private island. The island is surrounded by deep blue water, with a shallow turquoise lagoon area near the shore. A road runs along the top edge of the island, and there are some buildings and vegetation visible on the land.

UNDERSTATED LUXURY

This beautiful private island in the Mediterranean spans 148 acres of untouched nature reserve, peppered with pine trees and fringed with sandy coves. This private paradise offers one-of-a-kind island experiences, whether it's dining by candlelight in secret coves, or kicking back in the outdoor cinema, this home offers the opportunity to make lifelong memories on your very own island.

The villa itself is the ultimate entertaining space, with panoramic views of the island and surrounding sea. In addition to the saltwater pool, the grounds feature an outdoor whirlpool and fitness area. Inside, contemporary and sophisticated design is paired with state-of-the-art technology and the vast living and dining space overlooks the stunning views.
